Jones & Laughlin Awards Bliss Co. $2 Million Job

Local Firm To Build Cold Reducing Mill

Engineering Work Already Begun On Aliquippa Plant Unit

The E. W. Bliss Co. has been awarded a $2,000,000 contract by Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. of Pittsburgh for construction of a cold reducing mill at J. & L's Aliquippa, Pa., mill.

The new mill, part of a $12,000,000 capital expenditure program for thin tin plate facilities, is designed to process electrolytic tin plant into thin tin plate.

The unit is scheduled for operation next year.

George N. Perrault Jr., Bliss Co. vice president and manager of the local plant, said the new contract will generate approximately $1,000,000 in local labor alone.

Work on the mill has already begun in the engineering and raw materials procurement departments, he said.

He said rapid delivery of the mill is sought to help meet the intense demand for tinplate.

The new order boosts even further the heavy backlog of orders which the local plant has on hand.

Report Issued Recently

A report of the general business condition of the Bliss Co. plants, released recently by Robert Potter, chairman of the board, points to increased operations in the future.

"Business in general has been good," Potter said in his quarterly report to shareholders, "and the current backlog stands at approximately $50,000,000, as compared to $32,500,000 at Dec. 31, 1960.

At its meeting July 26, the Board of Directors declared a dividend of 25 cents per common share payable Sept. 1, to holders of record Aug. 15.

At the same meeting, Carl E. Anderson, formerly with Ebasco Services, Inc., was elected director, president and chief executive officer. He will also serve as a member of the executive committee.

Legislature Recall May Be For One Day

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — The special session of the legislature expected to be called next month probably will be a one-day affair.

After conferring in University Hospital with Senate Majority leader C. Stanley Mechem R-Athens Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said he expects to ask the lawmakers to make an emergency appropriation of about $29 million for capital improvements.

DiSalle said the scheduled Nov. 14 session will deal with other funds for additions and betterments. He said the special session probably will be before mid-September.

Mechem entered the hospital last Tuesday. He underwent surgery last Thursday and plans to leave the hospital soon.

DiSalle told newsmen that general appropriation cuts will bring a reduction in work schedules of state-paid employees in historical shrines throughout Ohio. The cuts will take effect Aug. 16.

The Ohio Historical Society said about $26,000 would be saved by the changes that followed a cut of some $30,000 in appropriations for property operations.

Two of the 15 employees will be eliminated from the state payroll. Work reductions will be made for other state employees and some will be on duty only weekends.

Cuban Delegate Blasts JFK

Latin Nations Ask $20 Billion In Aid

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—Five major Latin American nations called on the United States and other foreign aid sources to funnel $20 billion over the next 10 years into President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program. They urged the continent's governments to get their long-range development programs ready in the next 18 months.

The $20-billion resolution was introduced after a night session of the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference at which Cuban economic chief Ernesto Guevara lambasted Kennedy and accused the United States of plotting to assassinate Prime Minister Fidel Castro's brother Raul.

When Guevara finished speaking, several Cuban exiles in the audience screamed "assassin" at him and two leaped on the stage shouting. Fists swung as security guards hauled the demonstrators from the packed chamber.

The $20-billion resolution was submitted by Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Mexico and Peru. It differed from U. S. proposals on two major points.

First, the resolution watered down the U. S. proposal for a powerful committee of "seven wise men" to coordinate economic planning for Latin America. The five nations made clear they intend to plan their own economic programs and substituted a proposal for an inter-American planning staff with advisory powers only.

The five also junked the disputed American scheme for an elaborate information and cultural campaign to publicize the economic and social reforms that are the aims of Kennedy's program.

An Argentine delegate said privately the United States was "largely in agreement" with the resolution, which is expected to form the backbone of a joint declaration.

U.S., Allies Plan Meeting With Soviets

PARIS (AP)—The United States and its top Western allies are planning to advance a proposal within the next few weeks for a meeting with the Soviet Union on Berlin and Germany—if the Russians fail to propose one first.

Highly placed Western informants today gave an outline of diplomatic maneuvers on the Berlin crisis. American, British, French and West German foreign ministers discussed the moves during the weekend. That was followed by a briefing for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council by U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The timing of a call for negotiations on Berlin is a delicate matter involving tactical advantages. The decision has been coupled

Sets Meeting on Pay Boosts

Council Discusses Parking Changes, City Lot Meters

Meeting as a "committee of the whole," City Council last night recommended numerous changes dealing with on-street parking and heard a proposal from merchants that meters instead of gates be used on the Penn Ave.-W. Pershing St. municipal parking lot.

Since these two items took up more than three hours of Council's time, a scheduled discussion on the question of pay raises for city employees was postponed.

Another committee of the whole meeting was set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 17, to discuss the pay raise issue.

The legislators still must decide whether or not to alter their tentative offer to city employees which presently calls for a $24-per-month pay hike for most salaried personnel and a 10-cents-an-hour increase for those on an hourly scale, plus a three-week vacation after 15 years of service.

The benefits as now proposed would not become effective until the first of next year.

Thirty-six of the 67 city employees involved have signed a petition stating their satisfaction with the present offer.

However, police and firemen are seeking a larger pay boost and have already made arrangements with the county board of elections to go on the ballot this November with an initiative ordinance requesting a $50-per-month pay hike, plus additional vacation and holiday benefits.

Ptl. Norman Flick, who sat through last night's three-hour session waiting for Council to get to the pay raise question, said the police and firemen are still willing to negotiate with the legislators. He pointed out that the petitions which have been turned in to the board of elections can be withdrawn up until the time the ballots are to be printed.

Council indicated that it will go along with the recommendation of Salem merchants and install meters instead of gates at the new municipal parking lot which is nearing completion.

Eight merchants met with Council last night and all were in favor of the meters. It also was decided that new meters, costing $44 apiece installed, will be purchased instead of rebuilt meters which could be bought for $38. The feeling was that the new meters, with improved features, would be cheaper in the long run since they will require less maintenance.

Urges Projects to Aid Underprivileged

Rotary Governor Cites Clubs' Work for Peace

Rotary Clubs in 123 countries are working in unison in these difficult times of international tensions in an endeavor to promote understanding, good will and peace throughout the world.

That was the message Fred W. Lyons of Youngstown, governor of the nine-county district of Rotary International which includes Salem, brought to the Rotarians here Tuesday following a conference with local Rotary officials.

In addition to the activities of the more than 11,000 Rotary Clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Lyons explained, Rotary International has awarded grants of more than $3,750,000 in the past 14 years through its program of student fellowships, which enable outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as Rotary ambassadors of good will.

Since 1947, when this program was established, 1,454 Rotary Foundation Fellowships have been awarded to students in 70 countries for study in 50 countries, with grants averaging $2,600, he said.

Lyons stressed as a major aim of his year in office that each Rotary Club in his district adopt one new major project. In line with the current and growing need for international understanding, he suggested that local clubs of the district might well consider a new project to aid development of an underprivileged area overseas.

"Also, take another close look around in your own community," he added. "There may be some avenue of community service or betterment which has been overlooked."

Lyons congratulated the local club for having over-subscribed to the Rotary Foundation. Additional local projects are planned by the Salem Club.

Candidates Rush To File For Election

A veteran member of the Beaver Local Board of Education filed with the County Election Board at East Liverpool for a new term Tuesday to head a group of 28 new aspirants for village, township and school board posts at the Nov. 7 election.

A rush continued today as candidates sought to qualify before the deadline was reached at 4 p.m. A field of some 250 non-partisan candidates is anticipated, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

Seeking a new term on the Beaver Local Board is Paul Dailley of Apples Corners.

Others entering school board races yesterday were John C. Ewing for the Southern Local Board, Wilbur F. Brahm for the Salem City Board, and Leland E. Bricker for the Columbiana Exempted Village Board.

An incomplete slate also entered from Washingtonville Village, along with 12 more candidates for township trustee posts.

Washingtonville's slate filed yesterday included Donald W. Vignon for mayor, Thelma Grindle for clerk; Howard M. Crumbacher and Benjamin W. Snow

Deadline Set For Aug. 23 On Submissions

Nine Previous Bids Rejected Because Of Errors, Prices

Salem's hopes for getting construction going soon on a new Post Office building here were revived today with an announcement from the U. S. Post Office Department that it has readvertised for bids on the project.

Bids are to be submitted by Aug. 23 to R. D. Dyson, real estate officer for the Post Office Department, Atlas Bank Building Annex, Cincinnati 1, Ohio.

Previous Bids Rejected

This is the second time the Post Office Department has advertised for bids on this project. All nine bids submitted last May were turned down because they were said to be too high priced and some contained technical errors.

At least three of the bids submitted at that time came from Salem groups seeking the contract to construct the new federal building on a lease agreement.

Holds Land Options

The government holds options on five land parcels at the corner of Columbia St. and Penn Ave., the proposed site of the new post office.

These five properties have a 150-foot frontage on Penn Ave., 261.8-foot frontage on Columbia and 242-foot frontage on Peach Alley. The overall square feet of land is 35,045.

The building to be erected will include an enclosed net space of 12,199 square feet; driveway, parking and maneuvering area of 17,766 square feet; platform space of 1,178 square feet; a 60-square foot

4th Quarter GNP Set At $535 Billion

KANSAS CITY Mo. (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg predicts the nation's income from goods and services—called the gross national product—will reach $535 billion in the final quarter of 1961.

He estimated it at about $515 billion now and $500 billion when the Kennedy administration took over in January.

"What this means is that we have had a substantial amount of recovery from the recession," he said.

He estimated the country needs a gross national product of $585 or $600 billion a year to avoid an intolerable level of unemployment.

Goldberg made the comments to newsmen as he waited to address the international convention of the United Association of Plumbers and Pipefitters.

In his speech to the convention on his 53rd birthday—he reported the nation's missile and space programs lost only 209 man-days in July because of labor disputes. More than a million man-days were worked in those programs the month he said.

The delegates adopted a resolution which directed each of the union's 745 locals to establish a political education committee.

'Swift Strike' Continues for Joint Forces

FT. BRAGG, N.C. AP)—Heavy cargo planes thundered regularly into the Darlington, S.C., airport today in a gigantic supply operation of joint Army-Air Force Exercise Swift Strike.

A majority of the cargo and fighter support aircraft were manned by Air Reservists and Air National Guardsmen, many of whom already have been alerted for possible recall for active duty in the tense Berlin situation.

That, plus close observation of the quick-striking abilities of the Strategic Army Corps (STRAC), made the exercise doubly important.

The job of the Air Force was to furnish air cover and bring supplies to the 82nd Airborne Division which dropped 4,100 men and their equipment near Camden, S.C., Monday in what ranking officers called a near-perfect operation.

The exercise is being held in an eight-county area of North Carolina and South Carolina stretching 100 miles south-eastward from this military reservation.

The 82nd, one of three crack STRAC divisions, is acting as a United States force sent to a theoretical small foreign country which has been invaded by unfriendly forces.

The 101st Airborne Division, another STRAC unit, is expected to drop about 5,000 paratroopers Thursday in an effort to repel the 82nd.

Today's schedule called for C119s, C123s and C130s to make 310 air landings at Darlington.

One Certainty Pinned Down

Among a very few certainties about Berlin, which seems to move closer to the United States day by day, is the effect of losing four million Germans through the escape hatch the city represents for East Germans.

They have left East Germany virtually barren of doctors, lawyers and skilled technicians. Even farmers have begun to flee from East Germany. It is estimated that East Germany has lost close to 20 per cent of its elite population.

The effect has been so severe it is reflected in official census figures. The repressive measures of East Germany leading up to the sealing off of the western sector of Berlin last week to thousands of East Berliners who held jobs there could not have been postponed much longer. East Germany has reached the end of the line.

Measures to seal off the east sector of Berlin to outsiders will come next. West Berliners will not be allowed to go east. East Berliners who escape to the West by pretending to travel to West Berlin for a day's shopping will be stopped at the border. The flow of escapees from Communism in July reached the highest total since the unsuccessful uprising of June 17, 1953. It will be stopped. That is certain. This will happen whether or not there is war over Berlin. And the reason for the certainty goes far toward explaining why there is unlikely to be war over Berlin.

East Germans dislike Russian dominance. They do not like East Germans who have consented to be Russia's stooges. There is no evidence of homogeneity in East Germany. It is not a nation, not even a cohesive puppet state. It is a land of prisoners.

Russians do not like East Germans, or any Germans, for that matter. Germans have been their relentless enemies. If Russian troops had to rely on East German troops to carry out their military work, they would be leaning on weak reeds.

What would happen if the escape hatch were battered down tight is anybody's guess. Heinrich von Brentano, West German foreign minister, says it would create panic in East Germany. If it were battered down by the West, it would signify that East Germany was being abandoned to Communism.

But if it were battered down by the East Germans it would signify that they despaired of being able to stem the tide of emigration to West Germany. A disturbing aspect of the exodus is pointed out by cynical observers in West Berlin. They suggest that many of the refugees must be moving west now because they think it is their last chance. They risk arrest or death to get across the border while there is still time because time is running out for them. They doubt that the West can or will hold Berlin.

What would happen if riots broke out in East Berlin and West Berliners surged to the rescue of their fellow Germans in violation of border restriction? What would be West Germany's official position?

Franz-Josef Strauss, West German defense minister, says Bonn would do nothing but what was ordered by the North Atlantic Treaty command. And what would it do. No one knows.

Titov Did It First

Each and every American must decide in his own way what to think about the Soviet Union's astonishing feat of keeping a human being in orbit around the earth for as long as it would take to go to the moon and back. The moon's mean distance from the earth is 238,857 miles. Russia's Gherman Titov traveled 435,000 miles in his space capsule before he was brought back to earth. This is a logical place to start to decide what to think about the first implication of Titov's feat.

Not long from now in the incredible progression of space exploration, the Soviet Union will send an expedition to the moon. For the first time in human history, the influence of men will be asserted on another body in space.

It is a foregone conclusion that the United States will not do this before Russia does. It will be as far behind on a moon shot as it is in putting an astronaut into orbit around the earth.

This country does not have a rocket powerful enough to do these things, and it is evident that the Soviet Union has a rocket powerful enough to do anything it may want to do. It long since has dispelled any doubt that it has rockets powerful enough and dependable enough to wage missile warfare, if it chooses to do that.

And that is a logical place to think about the second implication of Titov's feat—its significance in war. When Premier Khrushchev made his young spaceman a full member of the Communist party, he signified that politics, as always, is foremost in his thoughts.

THE SOVIET UNION is making a strident and effective bid for world leadership.

It is singlemindedly doing everything in its power to dispel the impression that the United States is the local choice for world leadership.

It is relying on dramatic achievement to do for its status what the United States did for its status by achieving the world's highest standard of living for its people.

This has been the psychology behind Russian efforts to lay claim to scientific progress in all fields, even in a field where Russian accomplishment lagged behind, as U.S. accomplishment has lagged behind in rocketry and missile control. It has felt a psychopathic urge to be first, because for so many centuries the Russians lagged behind, under czarism.

It is having its chance to be first in rocketry and space exploration and obviously enjoying it.

Tales Of Inward Rot

By VICTOR RIESEL

ULUS, TURKEY

Well out of earshot of the rest of the world I walked with Asiatic friends through the contorted, almost impassable 'streets' of Ulus. This community was an ancient caravan crossroad when Tamerlane learned to ride his first Mongol pony. We dodged sheep and piles of shorn wool, and chickens and children playing in the open rivers of drainage.

My companions, who had just come in from the Far East to this western edge of Asia, said in good Americanese that Ulus was Park Ave. compared to the vast "rot" which is corroding and weakening Communist China today.

My Far Eastern friends, documenting every word, spoke of thunderous anti-hunger riots sweeping the China of Peiping. I was shown reports of industrial decay, worker and peasant sabotage, the burning of government buildings and the streaming of refugees from the Chinese mainland in such numbers that Portuguese Macao and British Hong Kong have become the West Berlins of the East.

WHY THEN, my friends asked, are the Americans being taken in by the myths of the tissue paper dragon.

One of my friends pinpointed some specific areas of Sovietized China's collapse. One Asian had a report on a Canton railroad depot which the Peiping propagandists had boasted was greater than anything the West could build.

When the project first was announced, the Peiping publicists reported that tens of thousands of workers would level a hill near Lau Fa Bridge.

This would clear an area for the construction of a union depot linking the Canton-Hankow railway with the Canton-Kowloon line.

After several years — by last July — only the foundations and pilings had been laid. Then they ran short of building materials last August. Work stopped.

Now, a year later, the site is merely a big weed garden. No depot. No supplies of construction machinery either—not alone for Canton but for scores of other Chinese cities.

WHATEVER equipment there is goes into the building of a few showplace steel mills, which are shown to delegations of French, British and Japanese industrialists. But throughout China the commune do-it-yourself production of steel ingots has collapsed.

Virtually all steel now comes from the scarce Soviet steel stockpiles. Furthermore food is being rationed so tightly that worker efficiency, even in the few modern plants, is unimaginably low. All over China there has sprung up an anti-hunger movement.

On group of travelers through China found decimated and starving groups of workers and peasants living in railway stations.

And not out in the smaller towns either.

This invasion of depots was observed in Harbin, Hankow, Shanghai and Canton.

The hungry ones actually raided some trains. They seized food stocks which had been put aboard to serve passengers.

These were fairly heavy food stocks. Virtually all important travel inside China is done by rail. There is practically no commercial or passenger air transport as we know it — no airports except a few. And these are mostly military ones.

THE TRAVELING group which observed the great train raids was told that even in the port city of Shanghai it was virtually impossible to get rice, meats, vegetables and sugar — even with ration cards.

Shifting to reports from other parts of the behemoth mainland, I was told of the burning of the largest rice mill in Kwangtung a few months ago.

Hungry villagers were provoked into this demonstration by the reduction of food rations already considered just above starvation level.

The peasants did not exactly cut their own throats to spite their stomachs. The mill was used by the central government to prepare "polished" rice for export — to prove that all is well inside China, so well that it could afford to sell food to other peoples.

THIS OCCURRED on the night of March 6. It took the Chinese Red army to put down the riots. Nor is this just one isolated instance. There have been hundreds of clashes between workers and peasants on one hand and Red militia on the other.

Prisoners were taken. They were tried for "counter-revolutionary activities." Some were shot.

They are considered to be a handful among some 28 million who have been shot, imprisoned, or deliberately starved to death. Of course, I cannot vouch for this figure. But my friends say that a statistical study of Communist Chinese newspapers is the basis for such a charge. The figure covers 13 years.

I chose these instances because they are typical of a few thousand similar ones. Most of them are corroborated by workers, farmers, university students, and members of the Young Communist League who run the Communist gauntlet into Hong Kong and Macao across the bay every day.

Let's tell this story to the rest of the world. No one wants war. Neither does anyone want to shy from a paper tiger.

Let's have a United Nations on-the-scene inquiry. Mass starvation, well planned, is genocide isn't it?

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I had a very humiliating experience and I would like you to tell me if I am right or wrong to feel insulted.

I've been on the heavy side all my life. Diets and exercise wear me out so I don't bother with them.

I wear dark conservative well-cut dresses and no one could guess my weight within 25 pounds. Even my husband doesn't know how much I weigh.

Last night we visited some old friends who just returned from French Provincial. I was just about to sit down when the hostess rushed over to me and in a voice that could be heard in the next block said "Please don't sit in that chair. It's an antique and not very strong!"

I took another chair but I was really burned up. My husband says I am too sensitive. I say the hostess was cruel and used terrible judgment. Am I right?—DEEPLY HURT.

Dear Deeply: Sorry but I agree with your husband. "Pleasingly plump" people should know that antique chairs are not for them. If they don't, they should be told and you were.

Would you have been less humiliated if the chair had collapsed under you? I figure the hostess did you a favor.

Unhappy Memory

Dear Ann: My sister passed away four months ago and her husband asked me to take their

14-year-old boy temporarily. I was happy to do it. We have a son 12 and a girl 9. The three children get along well together and I enjoy having "a second son."

The boy's father told me last night he is going to marry a girl who works for him. The son does not like this girl because I'm sorry to say his father conducted a rather open affair with her while his wife was alive and it caused much unhappiness in the family.

The father wants the son to come home to live and the boy wants to stay with us.

My husband feels the boy should go with his father and learn to live with his problem. I say no. What do you say?—A.L.

Dear A.L.: A boy 14 is old enough to decide where he wants to live. I hope his father will permit him to stay with you.

If the father insists that the boy come home he will of course have to obey. But don't rent his room Auntie. I'll bet he'll be back.

Wedding Date

Dear Ann: Next month one of my best girl friends is to be married. I was asked to be in the wedding ceremony.

I have invited a certain fellow to be my date for the wedding. He is rather new in town and has not yet met the bride or bridegroom. I got permission from both of them to have him as my escort and I'm sure we'll all be getting together before long.

The question is do you think

Soviet Orbit Flight Could Have Been Hoax

IN EUROPE Until and unless the Soviet Union allows disinterested scientists and members of the press from other countries to witness the ascent into and descent from space of astronauts aboard satellites that circle the earth, the alleged exploit of Gherman Titov must remain a matter of doubt. It could have been the hoax of all times.

For everything that has been reported from Moscow and from other countries about conversations by radio to and from the satellite itself could have been reproduced artificially by tape recordings in advance without the actual presence of any astronaut aboard during the flight.

Indeed, a Reuters news service dispatch from Cape Canaveral, Fla., on Sunday contains this significant paragraph about an American space project:

"A two-ton project Mercury capsule, it is hoped, will be launched into a single orbit by an Atlas rocket this month.

This capsule will contain an 'artificial astronaut,' a 'crewman simulator' which will 'breathe, sweat and talk.'"

The foregoing experiment, if successful, is to be followed later by manned capsule sent into orbit by the United States but the press of the world will be invited to see the launchings and the return and to hear the uncoded reports from the spacecraft.

In attempting to get ahead of America, the Soviets may well have "simulated" the whole flight.

It seems incredible, for instance that Titov would actually sleep eight hours while engaged on such a hazardous and momentous undertaking wherein every minute, it may be assumed, would require him to be alert to see that nothing went wrong mechanically.

It doesn't seem possible that the astronaut, who is but 26 years old and supposed to be in the air only 25 hours, would waste any of those hours in sleep or that he really could be so calm as to drop off into slumberland at the appointed time with the greatest of ease.

In fact, the Moscow report said that by prearrangement he was supposed to sleep only 7½ hours but extended his slumbers by 37 minutes.

THIS RECESS, incidentally, afforded an opportunity for complete silence in communications while the satellite was supposedly over certain parts of the globe. Whatever messages came from the ship and were heard at all could easily have been taped beforehand and broadcast from the satellite.

It is significant that nobody but the Russian ground staff could communicate with the satellite during its flight and that no conversations from outside Russia were permitted.

There were no television reels shown in Russia of pictures taken at the beginning or ending of the flight, though even these could also have been taped beforehand. A Moscow dispatch by Reuters says:

"Details of the landing were not disclosed immediately, but it was believed the spaceship came down suspended from parachutes. The procedure involves the firing of a retrorocket to take the ship out of its orbit and head it back to earth. There is also an alternative method whereby Titov could be ejected in an emergency and descend in his space suit by parachute."

ALL THIS is the kind of hazardous performance which, in the case of American astronauts Shepard and Grissom, the press and its photographers were able to witness.

Television cameras at once gave the entire world a bona fide movie of what was happening in both instances.

Why, then, did the Soviets prefer to do it all in secrecy? A United Press International dispatch from Moscow says: "Western observers were not permitted to witness Titov's takeoff or landing."

The claim was made in one of the Moscow dispatches that television cameras, presumably aboard the satellite, were sending back pictures of Titov in flight. These pictures could, of course, have been made before the ship left the ground.

Many similarities between the alleged flights of Gagarin and Titov were noted in Moscow press dispatches.

The first thought of both astronauts was to send greetings to the Central Committee of the Communist party and to Premier Khrushchev.

The messages were obviously prepared ahead of time for propaganda purposes.

PLANS ARE BEING made already to send Titov as a "goodwill ambassador" on trips to other countries.

The flight itself was timed to coincide with the meeting of the Western foreign ministers at Paris and has all the aspects of a propaganda stunt, cleverly conceived and executed.

There is no reason to accept as a scientific fact that Titov made the flight—though the space ship, with recordings aboard for intermittent radio transmission, may well have been functioning as it circled the earth.

The Russians do not hesitate to lie or forge official documents or to fake stories of episodes for propaganda purposes. Despite the skepticism that resulted from the contradictions in the Gagarin story, the Communists have dared again to ignore the press of the free world on the Titov demonstration.

Scientists would gladly have come from Western countries to witness the ascent of an astronaut into or descent from an earth-girdling satellite—if such an event really took place in Russia.

The Doctor Says

Pills, False Cure For Hypertension

According to estimates published by a prominent manufacturer of blood pressure-reducing drugs (anti-tensives), about 6 million Americans suffer with hypertension. Some 66 in each thousand city dwellers and 118 of each thousand who live in rural communities.

And, since the statement is also made that life expectancy is lowered in persons with elevated blood pressures, the "running reader" might be led to conclude that at least one means for prolonging life is through a steady diet of anti-tensive pills.

Not being a running reader, I shudder at the prospect of 6 million fellow citizens swallowing, with more or less regularity, daily doses of any of the presently available drugs capable of effecting a significant and sustained fall in blood pressure.

Here are some of the reasons for my reservations and fears:

Those who rely on statistics for their medical information variously assert that hypertension is evidenced when the blood pressure reading is over 119-73, more than 123-76 or in excess of 140-90 or 160-95.

Not only is there a considerable difference of opinion as to what constitutes high blood pressure, but, also many variable influence mass statistical studies. For example, the squat 5 by 5 is apt to have a level that is normally higher than the lanky bean pole. Women run higher than men. And the level rises as we get older, or heavier or both older and heavier.

Then, of course, there are the variables introduced by the circumstances present during the individual reading. The machine will record a higher level when we're lying flat than when we're standing; when the reading is made in a busy office or clinic than when it's made at home; when it's made by a stranger, such as an insurance examiner or an induction officer, than when it's made by the family physician; or when the observation is recorded when we're in a state of excitement rather than relaxed.

I have reservations, too, about the side effects of these powerful drugs, especially if they have to be taken over long periods of time. For, if they're given in sufficient doses to be effective, they may produce lightheadedness, headache, stomach upset, weakness, mental depression, fever and episodes of fainting.

Finally, since there is general agreement that in 95 per cent of cases, the cause for the hypertension is unknown ("essential hypertension") and in most of the remaining 5 per cent the cause is hardening of the arteries, it must be concluded that none of the blood pressure-reducing drugs actually influences the cause for the disturbance which remains unchanged whatever the level of the reading. I'll have more to say on hypertension later.

Unaffected by wind, rain, oxidation, vegetation or eruption, some features of the moon probably have stood unchanged for perhaps four billion years.

Woman Gives Birth To 2 Tots—Not Twins

CLEVELAND Ohio (AP)—The odds on Mrs. Leonard Shaffer giving birth to two children not twins—at the same time—were anywhere from 608,503 to a million or more to one—depending on whose statistics you use.

Last Saturday Mrs. Shaffer gave birth to a boy and a girl two minutes apart. They are not twins.

The pediatrician said the babies were conceived at different times and were not from the same egg.

Her doctor said the case was rarer than the birth of quadruplets. According to the World Book Encyclopedia one theory says quads are born once in 608,504 births. Another theory says they are born less than once in a million births.

The girl, Michelle Lynne was an eight-month baby and her brother Michael Lee was a nine-month term.

Michael weighs 6 pounds 11 ounces. His sister who weighs 4 pounds 3 ounces is in an incubator.

ance and be easier to operate.

Cost of the 170 meters, including installation, will be $7,480. Two sets of gates would have cost $4,610 but installation would have added another $1,000 to the total cost.

Due to the fact that earlier estimates placed the cost of the meters at $9,460, it was originally believed that meters would cost almost twice as much as gates. However, with the lower bid received on the meters, the difference will be only $1,870.

The meters on the new lot will take nickels, dimes and quarters and will permit parking from one to 10 hours. The exact rate will be determined later.

The parking lot, urged by retail merchants, was approved by Council last spring. The city issued notes for $90,000 against the general fund to finance the lot. Approximately $30,000 was contributed by the Salem Parking Inc., a private firm founded and operated by the Retail Merchants' Division of the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce. This was used toward obtaining land for the lot.

The municipal lot, with its 170 spaces for cars, is designed to alleviate the parking problem in the downtown section.

Several of the parking restrictions on city streets which Council recommended last night were proposed to expedite traffic to and from the new municipal lot and the one at the corner of S. Ellsworth Ave. and Pershing.

Other proposed parking restrictions are designed to eliminate certain dangerous conditions which councilmen claim exist.

Here are the proposed changes that Council recommended at its meeting last night:

1. Prohibit parking on both sides of Sharp Ave. from W. State St. to Wilson St.

2. Prohibit parking on both sides of Pershing St. from S. Howard Ave. to Water St., except beside City Hall where 15-minute parking would be permitted from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

3. Prohibit parking on both sides of E. 6th St. from Hawley Ave. to Union Ave. and the north side of 6th St. from Hawley to N. Lincoln Ave. except for the side of the street fronting the First Christian Church where parking would be allowed on Sundays.

4. Prohibit parking on the west side of Superior St. from E. 7th to N. Lincoln Ave.

5. Prohibit parking on the west side of Newgarden Ave. from the railroad tracks to the city limits.

6. Prohibit parking on the south side of E. 3rd St. from N. Ellsworth Ave. to Brooklyn Ave.

7. Prohibit parking on west side of Woodland Ave. from E. State St. to Maple St., except for church parking on Sundays.

8. Prohibit parking on one side of Hawley Ave. from 3rd St. to 6th St. and on both sides from 6th St. to the first alley north of E. State St.

9. Prohibit parking on both sides of Franklin St. from S. Lincoln Ave. to Ohio Ave.

10. Prohibit parking on both sides of S. Ellsworth Ave. from State St. to Pershing St.

11. Prohibit parking on west side of Penn Ave. from State St. to Columbia.

12. Install meters on north side of Columbia St. from Broadway to Penn Ave.

13. Prohibit parking on both sides of Columbia St. from Lincoln Ave. to Penn Ave.

14. Install parking meters on east side of Penn Ave. from Pershing to Columbia.

15. Make S. Lundy Ave. a two-way street and remove all parking on S. Lundy Ave. between State and Columbia.

16. Permit a left turn onto S. Broadway for westbound traffic on E. State St.

17. Prohibit parking on west side of Ohio Ave. from Franklin St. to State St.

Ralph Zimmerman, traffic and safety committee chairman, says there are several other proposed changes to be brought up later. Before any of these changes become law they must be drawn up in ordinance form and given three readings by Council.

There is no indication how soon this will be done.

Council has a regular meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at City Hall.

Salem Youths Fined For Vandalism

Four Salem men pleaded guilty today to defacing property and breaking windows in several buildings in the area over a recent period and were each fined $25 and costs and sentenced to three months in jail after a hearing before Judge Luther Donbar at the Northwest County Court here today.

The three-month jail sentences were suspended on condition of the boys' good behavior. Each of the men must make restitution for the damage caused and must report to the Court once a week while on probation.

The men involved were Albert Powell Schumch, 19, of MC 1, James F. Dillon, 19, of RD 3, Thomas W. Earl, 22, of 542 N. Ellsworth Ave., and Luther N. Griggs, 19, of 1032 E. 3rd St.

A fifth man, Thomas Shaffer, whose address was not given, has also been implicated in the cases. A warrant for his arrest was issued today.

Schmauch, Dillon and Earl all pleaded guilty to breaking windows at Zeigler's Market, south of Salem on Rt. 45, in the Normandie Isle dairy on Rt. 45, north of Lisbon, and Miller's IGA store in Hanoverton.

Griggs was not implicated in the vandalism at Miller's IGA.

The affidavits were signed by Sheriff Russell Van Fossan.

Fulbright

reputations no such motive to Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., his chief Democratic critic.

"But I hear reports that the Republicans may have some idea of trying to duplicate in Arkansas what they did in Texas," Fulbright said.

Sen. John G. Tower, a Republican, won a special election to fill the seat vacated by Lyndon B. Johnson when he became vice president.

Goldwater, who heads the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee and who helped Tower in Texas, scoffed at the idea that Republicans are gunning for Fulbright. Goldwater has joined in the criticism of the Pentagon directive.

"Why should we want to beat Fulbright?" he asked. "We'd just get another Democrat. We don't have anything against Bill and we certainly haven't got any chance to elect a Republican to the Senate in Arkansas."

Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., also critical of the Defense Department directive, said there is no politics in it as far as he is concerned.

"All I'm interested in is getting a change in this order, so that our military men can speak out about the menace of communism at home," he said.

However, GOP National Chairman William E. Miller said Republicans are going to keep on talking about the Fulbright memo because they don't think it is popular with the people to cut off discussions by service personnel of the threat of Communist infiltration.

laration to be signed at the close of the conference.

The resolution declares that Latin America's economic ills require "a supply of capital from all external sources during the coming 10 years of at least $20 billion—the bulk of which should be in public funds."

This was the figure Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon mentioned in his address to the conference. Dillon stressed, however, that the size of the aid would depend largely on whether the Latin-American countries take the "necessary internal measures" to insure rapid economic growth and development.

The United States already had promised to contribute more than a billion dollars a year to keep the program going. Dillon mentioned Japan and nations in Western Europe as potential sources to make up the balance.

Delegates turned to closed-door sessions today to try to get the gigantic aid program off the ground. They will study the five-nation resolution and other proposals and will draft a final declaration to be signed before the conference closes Aug. 16.

Soviet

Maj. Yuri Gagarin, stood nearby and shared in the plaudits.

Titov was flown to Moscow from Saratov, a Volga River city near which his space ship was reported to have landed Monday after orbiting the earth 17½ times in 25 hours.

He bussed Khrushchev, top officials of his country, his parents and his wife. Children heaped flowers on the hero in the wild reception at the airport.

Smiling and trim in his air force major's uniform, Titov, 26, climbed into an open car covered with flowers. His wife and Khrushchev rode with him at the head of a motorcade down the road into Moscow which today was renamed "Road of the Cosmonauts."

The route was banked with flowers and bright sunlight bathed the city. Three portraits formed the central decoration at the airport — Lenin Titov and Khrushchev, Titov in the center. Models of space ships and maps showing Titov's orbit were mingled among flags, streamers and slogans displayed on buildings, streetcars, buses and cars throughout the city.

Cheering crowds thronged the streets and packed Red Square. Before the kissing began, Titov delivered a brief report to Khrushchev.

"Comrade first secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union, chairman of the Council of Ministers of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics—I report that the assignment of the Central Committee and Soviet government has been completed.

"On the 6th and 7th of August 1961, I carried out a 25-hour space flight in the spaceship Vostok II. "I orbited the earth 17 times and landed safely exactly in the predetermined area.

"All the space ship's equipment worked without fault. I feel in excellent health and am prepared to carry out any assignment of the party and the government—Titov, major."

Then Titov and Khrushchev grabbed each other, grinning broadly, and the spaceman got the jump on the premier with an enthusiastic kiss on the mouth. When Gagarin made his triumphal return, Khrushchev did the kissing.

Interstate Will Have Signboards - - - And BIG Ones

1—Newest technique in communicating information to a speeding autoist is suspending directional signs overhead directly in his line of sight. This multilane California road demonstrates the effectiveness.

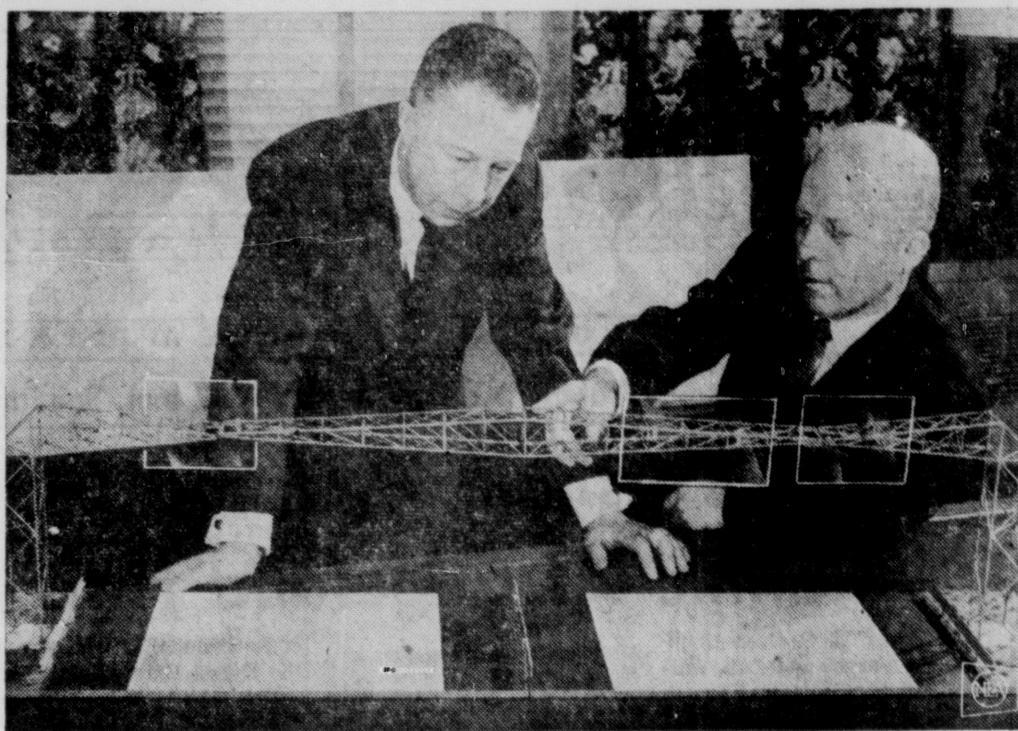

2—Design of Interstate system appurtenances is not only closely regulated but carefully tested even to smashing cars into them. Above are models of some of the fences, barriers and other hardware which can be seen along the new roads.

4—This is the largest traffic sign in the state of Iowa. Each side is eight feet and it is banded in four reflective paints: red, yellow, white and black. It can be seen 2,500 feet away. It is being installed at a dangerous intersection near Holstein.

5—And there's always opportunity for the human touch even in the upper reaches of scientific engineering. Pennsylvania Turnpike this year is experimenting with cute animals on some signs. It's hoped youngsters will pressure parents to drive more safely.

3—Sign supports can get fancy. In photo above, engineers look over newly designed tapered box truss hung between two trussed cantilever columns to span especially wide roadways. Installations such as these must be safe in winds up to 100 mph. Plastic rectangles on model substitute for signs which would be hung over roadway.

Even with all the struggle over scenery vs. signboards, the nation's Interstate Highway System is going to have some of the biggest signs on it ever seen and there's no getting away from it.

They are part of what engineers call "highway hardware"—the structures that line the traffic ribbons.

You may not pay particular attention to them but they are there to get you safely and surely to your destination.

Strict specifications regulate the size, strength and even the shape of such parts of the highway hardware as the signs, fences, light standards, bridge rails and safety barriers.

Their stark and functional appearance make them rather handsome to those who like the "modern" trend in designing when looked at closely.

These photos provide a closer look at some of this vital hardware being installed from coast to coast.

Stepanic's Tavern Jolts Old Dutch 3-2 In Tourney Game

Both Teams Play Again Tonight; Setback Is First for Losers

Dave Drakulich Saves Game With Peg to Plate; Dick Andric Homers

Centerfielder Dave Drakulich's perfect throw to the plate in the last of the seventh inning stopped an Old Dutch rally and gave Step-panic's Tavern a narrow 3-2 victory Tuesday at Kelley Park and sent the Columbiana County Softball championship into a playoff.

The final battle of the tournament will be played tonight at 9:30 p.m. after the Slo-Pitch League games. If Old Dutch had won last night there would not be any game tonight. Since the tourney is double elimination Old Dutch suffered its first loss of the tournament. The losers are now 4-1 while Step-panic's is 7-1 in tourney action.

THE HERO'S role must be divided between Drakulich and shortstop Dick Andric. Andric played a flawless game at short and it was his home run in the third inning that provided the margin of victory for Step-panic's.

Old Dutch rallied in the seventh frame when Hank Miller, pinch-hitting for hurler Bill Herman, went to third when Step-panic shortstop Andric threw low to first baseman Dick Dougherty and Dougherty let the ball get away. Miller scored to make the count 3-2 when Lefty Miller beat out a hot grounder to short.

The bases got loaded when Whitey Moore and Jim Weizen-ecker hit safely. The big play came when one out when Old Dutch catcher Jerry Weizenecker flied to Drakulich in center and then Drakulich rifled a strike to catcher Carson McNeely to complete the double play by getting Lefty Miller attempting to score from third.

STEPANIC'S SCORED its first run in the second inning when Jerry Weizenecker threw wild to first baseman Paul Herman on Jim Stonemetz's bunt. On the throw, Vince Weyant, who had singled, came all the way home from first with the tally.

Randall Wright drove in Stonemetz with a single over Old Dutch shortstop Jim Weizen-ecker's head to tally the second run of the inning.

The winners added their third run of the game when Andric caught one of Herman's fast balls and parked it over the left field fence to give Step-panic's a 3-0 bulge.

Old Dutch racked up its first tally in the last of the fourth. Lefty Miller reached first on an error to start the rally. Whitey Moore singled to left and Jim Weizenecker sacrificed Moore at second, with Miller moving to third. Miller came home when Jerry Mount drove a hot grounder to Andric at short who made a nice stop but could not make a play. The rally ended when Jack Roesti flied to right.

THE LOSERS HAD a golden opportunity to chalk up some runs in the last of the sixth. With the bases loaded Paul Herman was struck out by Step-panic hurler Stonemetz.

Bill Herman was the losing pitcher as he gave up five hits. Stonemetz was the winner, allowing eight safeties.

Four Bouts Featured At Idora Wrestling

Mike and Doc Gallagher will challenge "Bearcat Wright" and Ilio Di Paolo in a tag team match in the main wrestling event at Idora Park Tuesday. Action will get under way at 8:30.

In other action Miguel Perez will wrestle Baron Gutoni in the opener followed by the special attraction which features Professor X and The Crusher. The semi-final bout will pit Sato Komuka against Billy "Red" Lyons.

Hot Stove Leagues

Something that is pretty rare is to pitch a no-hitter and lose. Jack Detwiler hurled a no-hitter against Class H league-leader Home Furniture but Toar's Wrestlers lost a 3-2 decision in one of six Hot Stove League games played Tuesday.

Other battles saw Famous Market hand CIO 4022 of Leetonia its fourth straight defeat, 7-4 and Deming CIO 2463 rally to tie Columbiana VFW 6-6 in a tilt called on account of darkness in Class E action; Farmers Bank commit nine errors and got stomped, 19-5 by the Elks in Class F; the Firemen ran up 16 hits in rolling over Hunt's Ind. Union, 19-5, in Class G, and in Class H Merchants Vending dump the Jaycees, 11-8.

Two errors and two walks were all the Home Furniture nine needed as they tallied two runs in the first inning and one in the second to hand Toar's a setback. Detwiler seemed to be the victim of circumstances as he walked only two batters and fanned two in the four innings.

Toar's manager to get two by Jeff Zimmerman, one by Detwiler and another by Fred S. freed, both in the fourth frame.

Famous Market came from a 4-2 deficit and powered over five runs in the fourth inning to grab the win away from Leetonia. Singles by Arter, Wilt, Metzgar and Scott along with a triple by George Begalla sparked the winners' rally.

Deming CIO 2463 scored six times on four hits in the top of the fifth frame to take a 6-5 lead but two walks and a single produced the tying run for the Columbiana VFW aggregation only to have the game called because of darkness.

Up until the fifth frame CIO 2463 had been limited to only a single by Barrett off Hughes, the VFW hurler. Hughes fanned five batters in the span.

The Elks tallied in every inning but the first as they shook a 1-0 first frame lead of the Farmers Bank and turned the tilt into a romp.

Denny Miller was the winning hurler as he scattered four hits and struck out 14 batters. Miller also paced the 14-hit attack of the Elks along with Dave Porteous, both had three safeties. Ron Par-lontieri smacked a homer for the winners.

Barry Marks collected two hits for the Farmers Bank crew.

After a 3-3 first inning deadlock the Firemen poured 16 runs across the plate on 13 hits to overwhelm the Hunt's nine.

Lou Markovich carried the big stick for the Firemen, rapping three hits in five times at bat. Ron Bezerdi, Tom Bica and Jim Cioti aided the winners cause with two hits apiece.

Bica was the winning pitcher, giving up four hits and fanning 11. Jaycees manager Dick Ehrhart played under protest from the fifth inning when he disputed a called third strike by umpire Ted Beery.

It is not likely that the protest will go through because league rules state that no protest dealing with the judgment of an umpire will be considered.

The Jaycees built up an 8-6 lead after five and a half innings of play but a five-run sixth inning for Merchants Vending turned the tables on the losers.

Art Bowen and Dusty Rhodes socked doubles to feature for the Jaycees. Tom Capel collected a double in the Merchants attack.

Tigers Remain 3 Games Off Pace

Maris Turns Single Hitter--Yanks Win 5-4

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees, with Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris once again held without a home run, won their sixth in a row and retained a three-game lead in the American League race Tuesday night by beating the Los Angeles Angels 5-4 in 10 innings. Maris's single broke it up after Yogi Berra's home run had given the Yanks a 4-4 tie.

Second place Detroit kept the pace by beating the Chicago White Sox 3-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Jim Bunning.

Third-place Baltimore split a twilight pair with Kansas City, beating the A's 7-0 on the three-hit pitching of Steve Barber in the first game, then losing 6-5. Cleveland defeated Washington 6-5 in 10 innings, and the Minnesota Twins, after losing eight in a row, beat Boston 6-3.

The Yankees, now 7-0 vs. the Angels at Yankee Stadium, managed just four hits off Eli Grba and losing reliever Art Fowler (5-5) before Tony Kubek opened the 10th with a double and came across on Maris' single. New York collected two hits in the first inning, one a two-run double by Elston Howard, but didn't get another until Berra unloaded his 15th home run in the sixth inning. Luis Arroyo (10-3) was the winner, striking out five in his three innings.

Bunning (13-8) didn't walk a man and struck out four while packing away his eighth victory in his last 10 decisions. Norm Cash provided all the slugging support Bunning needed with his 28th home run in the fourth inning off Frank Baumann (8-9).

Barber gave up nothing but singles while running up a 7-0 career record against Kansas City. It was his sixth shutout of the year, tops in the majors, and his third over the A's. Bob Shaw (7-10) was the loser as Jackie Brandt and Hank Foiles each drove in two runs in a 15-hit barrage.

Kansas City then beat Baltimore for only the second time in 13 tries when Haywood Sullivan hit a two-out, three-run home run in the nightcap ninth off reliever Hoyt Wilhelm (8-7). The A's also ended Skinny Brown's shutout streak at 36 innings with a three-run fifth. Norm Bass (6-7) was the winner although giving up three home runs—two by Brandt and Jim Gentile's 32nd. Camilo Pascual (9-12) struck out 10, allowed just six hits and drove in three runs for the Twins against Bill Monbouquette (8-11). Homers scored Boston's runs—a solo by Don Buddin and an inside-the-park shot that gave Gary Geiger his first major league grand slam.

No-Hitter, Triple Play Featured In United League

Larry Lance hurled a no-hit, no-run 20-0 victory for league-leading Winona over New Alexander in United Little League play Tuesday.

In the fifth inning the winners pulled off a triple play. Marty Briceland paced the winners with four hits.

In other games Larry Nor-ton tripled in the last of the seventh inning with bases loaded to give East Rochester a 12-9 extra inning win over Hanoverton and Franklin Twp. scored a 15-7 win over Kensington as Denny Pierson with three-for-three and Ken ny Heit with two-for-three paced the winners.

In a make-up game Monday Kensington blanked East Rochester, 3-0.

Winona will play Eljer of the Salem Class F Hot Stove League in an exhibition game at 6 p.m. Saturday at Memorial South field in Salem.

The Hanoverton Merchants, leading the Tri-Teen loop, will close out the season tonight when they meet the Minerva Red Feathers.

An All-Star encounter between the United Little League 12-year-olds and the Lisbon 12-year-olds will be played at 6 p.m. today at New Alexander.

Montreal — Bob Cleroux, 204, Montreal, outpooled George Chuvala, 207 1/2, Toronto, 12, (for Canadian heavyweight title).

Gene Mauch Nurses Shiner

Managers Get Worst In Players' Brawl

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Manager Gene Mauch of Philadelphia today was nursing a black left eye and his counterpart, Danny Murtaugh of Pittsburgh, a spike wound of the neck after the two acted as peacemakers in a wild melee between players of the two clubs.

The brawl broke out Tuesday night during the sixth inning of a two-night doubleheader when catcher Hal Smith of the Pirates put an extra hard tag on Phillies' outfielder Tony Gonzalez who tried to score from second on a single by Clay Dalrymple.

Smith fell on Gonzalez and both players came up with fists swinging. Players, managers and coaches from both teams swarmed into the field and at least seven different fights erupted.

Mauch and Murtaugh were the only ones injured and no one seemed to know who did the damage. They and police finally broke up the free-for-all which lasted nearly 10 minutes.

Umpire Frank Dascoli ordered three policemen stationed at each dugout until the end of the game to prevent a further outbreak. After the game, which the Pirates won 3-2 after taking the opener 10-2, a veteran sports remarked to Murtaugh in the dressing room that it was the best fight he ever saw.

"I wouldn't know," said Murtaugh. "I was on the bottom of the pile and didn't see a thing."

After the melee Mauch argued with plate umpire Frank Secory that Smith should be ejected from the game. Mauch announced the game was being played under protest but later in the dressing room the Phillies manager said he was withdrawing his protest.

Indians Storm From Behind to Trip Senators 6-5

Tribe Ushers In Noisy Scoreboard

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians ushered in their new noisemaking, flame-shooting scoreboard Tuesday night and it seemed to get marvelous results. The Tribe beat the Washington Senators, 6-5.

The scoreboard, which General Manager Gabe Paul says gives Municipal Stadium a homey touch was deadly mute when two Washington players hit homers.

Scoreboard Noisy
But it came to life in the eighth inning when Chuck Essegian, batting for pitcher Bobby Locke, hit a 440-foot homer over the left-center field fence. Two spotlights lit up the sky, two torches atop the scoreboard spouted flame, and a trumpet fanfare and majestic music followed. It was impressive to say the least.

From that point on the Indians rolled, overcoming a 5-2 deficit. After Don Dillard and Tito Francona singled, Mike Garcia, who won over 100 games when he was with Cleveland, came on for the Senators to relieve starter Bennie Daniels.

Willie Kirkland, Bubba Phillips and John Romano greeted Garcia with singles, each bringing in a run, to tie the game at 5-5.

The winning run was provided the Indians on a passed ball by catcher Gene Green with none out in the 10th inning and the bases loaded—his second passed ball of the inning.

Dillard hit a long fly to center which Willie Tasby misjudged and it went for a double. Francona then walked and both he and Dillard advanced on a passed ball by Green. Willie Kirkland then was intentionally walked.

With a 1-2 count on Phillips, Green let another Dave Sisler pitch get by him and the winning run came in.

Temple Saves Game
Johnny Temple kept the Senators from scoring the lead run in their half of the 10th. Chuck Hinton doubled off Wynn Hawkins, who came on in the ninth. After a sacrifice and a walk to Bud Zupfel, Marty Keough popped to Temple in short right field. Temple then fired a strike to Romano to nail Hinton, one of the fastest men in the league, who tried to score from third after the catch.

The Nats got to starter Barry Latman for three runs on just three hits in five innings. Two of them, however, were homers by Hinton and Bob Johnson.

They got two more off Locke in the eighth before yielding to the wondrous powers of the new scoreboard.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Vacation time is all over for some people and just beginning for others. It so happens mine has just begun so I will not be available for anything until about Aug. 22. There will be a special patrolman to carry on in my absence.

For some reason I cannot warm up to taking the turnpike to go anywhere. In the first place, if you run into motor trouble you will pay plenty to get towed to the nearest repair shop besides sitting there with a handkerchief tied on your antenna with the hood up hoping you get help while the traffic keeps whizzing by. A most monotonous experience.

NOT ONLY THAT but if you happen to be the driver you have to keep your eye on the road and the scenery is limited mostly to the straight road ahead. Actually, if you take the time to get the latest road information and use state or federal highways, you will find they have been improved to the point where they are about as good as the toll roads and you can take your time and see some of the country side you probably haven't seen before.

What good is a vacation if you travel as far and fast as possible going and coming and reach home worse off than if you didn't take a vacation? You have to get back to work to rest up. If most of us put in the long hours on a job as we do going places on vacation we would agree unanimously that the boss was a "slave-driver".

I had a few short hauls planned for my vacation. The first was a trip to Moundsville, W. Va., where my young daughter entered a baton contest. I got as far as Wheeling and was going down Hill on Main St. when I discovered I had no brakes. I shifted into conventional gear and everything was O.K. until I found a garage.

THE MASTER BRAKE cylinder was dry so it was refilled. On to Moundsville. Then I got back as far as the north side of Steubenville and the same thing happened. The cylinder was again refilled so I got as far as Toronto and off went the brakes again. I had it by that time as it was 2:30 a.m. Sunday. I called a friend who came after us and left the car parked on a vacant lot after calling the local police. I returned for the car on Monday. Think what it would be like to have this happen on the turnpike!

Frankly, I'm tired already after that experience. I might stay home but I'll guarantee you I am not going to answer the telephone even if I hear it ringing as I will be too busy nibbling on the sweet corn and home grown tomatoes. If there's a better place than home I haven't found it yet.

That two-team scrap for the National League pennant erupted into a wild and woolly battle from coast to coast Tuesday night as, moving from West to East:

The Los Angeles Dodgers finally caught up with Lew Burdette and whipped the Milwaukee

Braves 7-3 for a one-game lead; Third-place San Francisco beat the Chicago Cubs 8-1 in a bean-ball duel between Jack Sanford and Don Cardwell;

The St. Louis Cardinals out-slugged second-place Cincinnati 6-5.

And Pittsburgh's fallen idols and Philadelphia's last-place Phils went at it an all-out brawl in the second game of the Pirates' 10-2 and 3-2 twi-night doubleheader sweep.

The Dodgers, who had lost nine in a row to Burdette in Los Angeles Coliseum, twice blew leads before finally beating the big right-hander with a two-run sixth inning. Junior Gilliam walked, went to third on Duke Snider's single and scored as catcher Joe Torre dropped a throw at the plate — after Gilliam stepped on his ankle. Snider, who drove in two runs, one with a homer, then came across with the clinching run on a single by Frank Howard.

Dick Farrell (7-5) was the winner in relief after starter Sandy Koufax gave up a home run by Frank Thomas and left when the Braves took a 3-2 lead on Joe Adcock's two-run single in the sixth.

The Reds and Cards jolted each other with three home runs, but the Red Birds wound up with the edge on a ninth-inning belt by Ken Boyer, his 17th of the year and second of the night off loser Bob Purkey (13-6). Purkey, Vada Pinson and pinch-hitter Jerry Lynch homered for the Reds, with Lynch's fifth pinch shot of the year (one shy of the record) tying it 5-5 in the top of the ninth against winning reliever Lindy McDaniel (8-5). Bill White paired with Boyer for solo home runs in the third inning, after each had knocked in a run with a single in the first.

A two-run single by Willie Mays put it away for the Giants in the first inning. Then Cardwell (9-0) and Sanford (7-6) went to work. Cardwell dropped Sanford with a second-inning pitch and plunked Orlando Cepeda in the back in the third. Sanford got rid of Cardwell in the sixth, nicking him on the back of the neck with a pitch that put the Cub right-hander out of the game. He wasn't injured seriously.

Sanford then tagged a two-run homer off reliever Don Elston in the sixth and finished with a five-hitter.

The Bucs and Phils got into it as the Pirates handed the Phils a 12th straight defeat and their 17th defeat in 18 games — enough to get anybody riled. It started when Pirate catcher Hal Smith fell on Tony Gonzalez as he slid into the plate and ended when six cops came to the aid of the out-manned ump. Managers Danny Murtaugh of the Bucs and Gene Mauch of the Phils went into the brawl as peacemakers and came out with the worst of it—Murtaugh with a spike wound on his neck, Mauch with a black eye.

Tom Sturdivant won his first NL decision although giving up seven hits, one a home run by Gonzalez. Chris short (4-8) was the loser.

The Bucs banged out 13 hits in the opener. Smoky Burgess was 5-for-5 driving in four runs with four singles and a sixth-inning home run that settled it against Art Mahaffey (7-16), who now has lost nine in a row. Harvey Haddix (8-5) was the winner.

Blueberry Fruit Mold Is Lively Dessert

All you need is a box of those cultivated blueberries and four other ingredients.

Then you, too, can turn out a colorful blueberry fruit mold, made simply from flavored and unflavored gelatin, a small can of crushed pineapple, two bananas and a pint of fresh blueberries.

Take advantage of this recipe. It will become one of your favorites and your husband and children will love it — especially on hot evenings.

1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 3½ cups water, 2 packages lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 small can crushed pineapple, drained, 2 bananas, cut into cubes, 1 pint fresh cultivated blueberries.

Sprinkle unflavored gelatin over ½ cup cold water in small bowl. Place bowl over hot water and let stand 5 minutes. Empty lemon gelatin into large bowl.

Add 3 cups of boiling water and stir until dissolved and the mixture clear.

Add unflavored gelatin to lemon mixture. Set aside to cool. When cool, refrigerate.

When mixture begins to set around edges, stir well and return to refrigerator. When mixture has set enough not to run, stir in pineapple and bananas, alternately, waiting several minutes between additions.

Return to refrigerator for 5 minutes before folding in blueberries. By following this procedure, fruit will be evenly distributed throughout fortified gelatin mixture.

Turn into chilled mold. At serving time, wrap mold in hot towel and shake fruit mold free onto plate.

brittle or molasses-mint flavored "pillow" candies; sprinkle over vanilla or chocolate ice cream. Garnish with little pieces of semi-sweet chocolate.

8. Ambrosia: Top fruit-flavored or vanilla ice cream with diced oranges and flaked coconut.

9. Pineapple Mint: Dice fresh pineapple and sprinkle with sugar to taste and finely chopped fresh mint. Chill and serve over scoops of lemon or orange sherbet and vanilla ice cream.

10. Macaroon Melba: Fill cavities of fresh peach halves (skins and pits removed) with macaroon crumbs and top with vanilla or peach ice cream. Serve with raspberry sauce or syrup.

11. New England Special: Top peach or vanilla ice cream with a sauce made from fresh blueberries sweetened with sugar, spiked with lemon juice and thickened with corn starch. Serve the sauce hot, warm or cold.

12. Chop Suey: Chop dates and raisins (light-colored ones if available); add to rum - flavored syrup. Serve over coffee, chocolate or vanilla ice cream and top with salted pecans.

Columbiana Jaycees To View Safety Film

COLUMBIANA — The Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet tonight at 6:30 at Heck's Restaurant to see a film on road safety presented by members of the Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol.

The patrolmen will discuss the film with the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Dale Kamper, president of the Jaycees, reminds those unable to attend to cancel their reservations.

The Kiwanis Club held its first meeting at Firestone Park for the month of August Monday evening. The members had dinner and their regular business meeting. The remainder of the evening was devoted to baseball, shuffleboard, and other recreational activities.

A family picnic is planned for Aug. 14.

PVT. LARRY I. RUPERT is finishing eight weeks of advanced individual training at Fort Knox, Ky.

The 23-year-old soldier is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth R. Rupert and the husband of Mrs. Sandra Rupert. He is a graduate of New Waterford High School and attended Ohio State University. He entered the army last February.

The Senior Class of Columbiana High School met for a party recently at Firestone Park in honor of Jim Young, a former member of the class now residing in Landsdale, Pa., who returned for a visit.

Refreshments and dancing to records were enjoyed by the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burk served as chaperones for the young group.

MRS. RANDALL GLENN of Fairfield Ave. has returned home after spending a week with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Glenn and their daughter, Sheryl Ann, in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cleveland have returned home from Florida. They visited their son, Novie Cleveland, and other relatives.

Gary Bush, Richard Miller, Willard Tucker, Dennis Gleckler, Alan McCammon, Arlin Keck, and Jai Lipp left Sunday afternoon to spend a week at Bible Camp of the American Lutheran Church at Fulton, Ohio.

'Tamed Down' Rockets Being Advocated

BLACKSBURG Va. (AP) — "Tamed down" space rockets that will allow man to be a driver instead of a rider were advocated to a group of the nation's top space scientists meeting Monday at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The 30 per cent failure rate of the Atlas booster rocket used to launch the Mercury astronauts into orbit could be reduced if the man in the space capsule had control of his space vehicle said research scientist George S. Schairer of Boeing Aircraft's Seattle Wash. division.

Schairer predicted future space men will fly their booster rockets in much the same way that planes are flown today.

To accomplish this the rockets will have to be "tamed down a little bit" to where man will have time to react to changes in the behavior of the rocket and to make whatever corrections are necessary he said.

This means redesigning the rocket to increase its stability in flight to the point where manual control is feasible. Today's rockets for example have a tendency to turn end over end and a correction for this requires micro-second timing that only a machine can do.

With a man in control of a properly designed space vehicle Schairer believes that something could be done about guidance failure and power failure the two main causes of trouble in the Atlas now.

Salem Students Take Course In Astronomy

With the starry universe for a textbook and the vault of the sky as a classroom, a group of Salem fifth, sixth, and seventh graders recently sacrificed a portion of their summer to study the age-old science of astronomy.

The class, which was part of the Salem school system's program of extra education for elementary pupils, was taught by Vincent Taus, an amateur astronomer and a sophomore at Yale University, Darryl Everett, a Salem High junior, assisted with the course.

The group of 19 youngsters met twice a week for seven weeks, at the Senior High School for discussions and at the Buckeye School playground for observing the moon, planets, double stars and star clusters.

A large refracting telescope owned by the School Board was the main instrument used for observing, while smaller scopes lent by Dr. R. J. McConner and Bob Broomall were also used.

Shown above observing the sun with the McConner telescope are (left to right) Dale Beaumont, George Zeller, Rick Kilbreath, Jay Hunston, Dana Barnes, Richard Everett (behind scope), Taus, Leanna Graybeal, Paul Fennema, Bill Taus, and Darryl Everett.

The course covered not only the scientific and factual aspects of astronomy, but also the historical and philosophical significance of the science. The class' basic purpose, according to Taus, was to stimulate an appreciation of the "awesome vastness and wondrous variety of the universe."

In addition to the regular meetings, the group also scheduled several field trips and special sessions.

The first of these was held last week, when they visited Clarke Observatory at Mt. Union College in Alliance. Because cloudy skies prohibited use of the telescope, Observatory Director R. H. Snellgrove spoke on solar astronomy. Thursday or Friday night the class plans an all night observing session to record the annual Perseid meteor shower, which attains a maximum this weekend.

Next week they will travel to Vienna, where Salem amateur astronomer W. H. Wright Jr. will demonstrate the 16-telescope of the Youngstown Astronomy Club. On Aug. 25 the group hopes to observe an eclipse of the moon.

Farmers Must Apply For Gas Tax Refund

LISBON — Farmers who wish to apply for a refund of the federal tax on gasoline used on the farm should file Form 2240 with the district director of internal revenue no later than Oct. 2, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

The refund includes gasoline purchased and used for farming purposes between July 1, 1960, and June 30 (1961). The refund will be made to the farmer at the rate of four cents per gallon. Claim Form 2240 may be obtained by contacting the Agricultural Extension Office at 113 S. Market St. here.

Let's Explore OHIO

"Ohio gave the world light and flight." Most school children know that this statement refers to the revolutionary inventions of the incandescent electric light and the airplane which were the work of Ohio men.

Overlooking the Air Force Wright Field east of Dayton is an impressive monument to the Wright Brothers, Wilbur and Orville of Dayton, not far from the Huffman flats where they carried out some of their early experiments with their airplanes.

At the city of Milan, now easily accessible from the Ohio Turnpike, is located the birthplace of Thomas Alva Edison, who is acclaimed by the whole world for

shows the rear view of the house.

Edison's home is today a museum visited by thousands each year. This house was built in 1841. Here Thomas A. Edison was born Feb. 11, 1847. Visitors to his museum can see originals of Edison's letters, photographs, sketches, a model of the original phonograph and one of the original electric lights invented by this famous Ohioan.

The home has some of the Edison family possessions and has been restored as nearly as possible to its original appearance by Mrs. Edison as a memorial to her husband.

Unfinished Business

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody has unfinished business in his life. It consists of all the things he'd like to do or get—but somehow, for one reason or another, never does.

Some of the things may seem quite important and, unachieved, may leave a visible scar. Others are only foolish wishful daydreams—vagrant yearnings, zany impulses, small vanities unexpressed.

Their defeat impels us to no regret beyond a wry sigh and the philosophical observation, "Well, that's life for you."

Each man builds up his own file of unfinished business—his private portfolio of the wished-for but unattained—as he goes along from childhood through adulthood, and if he keeps his zest for living the file gets bigger and bigger.

For example, somewhere along the way I've wanted to do such things as:

Climb the Empire State Building and the Statue of Liberty.
Eat a second garlic-buttered snail. The first one seemed awfully filling at the time.
Show Brigitte Bardot the Taj Mahal by moonlight.

Attend an informal dinner party at the White House.
Tie a bow tie just once that didn't look as if it had been assembled by a man with 10 thumbs and the palsy.

Find cures for the common cold and the uncommon hangover.

Talk to Socrates, Voltaire and Emily Dickinson at a spiritualist's seance.

Grow a beard, without winding up looking like a beatnik.

Grow a mustache without looking like John L. Sullivan gone to pot.

Learn to carry a tune, any tune, any tune in the whole wide world.

Become proficient in one other language besides English and pig Latin.

Find a really satisfying new food that would taste like strawberries, ice cream, corn on the cob, mashed potatoes and gravy—and wouldn't have a calorie in a carload.

Own a house by the sea with three bedrooms and 97 bathrooms—one more than any wife can fill.

with dripping stockings hung up to dry.

Find a potion that would make short, balding, middle-aged fat men absolutely irresistible to all women under 40. I wouldn't market it; I'd keep it all for my own use.

Write one phrase or line of poetry that would sing in the heart of man forever.

Wake up each morning feeling like a child setting out for its first day in kindergarten.

What's in your own portfolio of unfinished business?
